Project Description

The Niamey Girl Bloggers Group is an active association of teen and young adult bloggers who have been publishing on a variety of critical topics for Niger --education, women's leadership, security, etc. These are bloggers who have a lot to say and US Embassy Niamey has worked hard to give them a voice with social media training. Now, as the first group has taken off and we are ready to start another cohort, Post needs support in helping mentor our lively network of bloggers. The work involves reading posts, providing mentorship, and developing occasional prompts to spur the bloggers' creativity. Your help will be greatly appreciated as we support the young women of Niger!
